DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 13-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is unclear as to whether you are claiming separate shaving apparatuses, and if you are claiming them in combination with each other. Given the wording of the claims, and the fact that you are claiming such limitations as the housings being identical and the shell structures having different shapes, it is unclear as to whether you are claiming the housings and the shell structures in a single shave, or if you are claiming them in reference to separate shavers being compared to each other.

Claim 14 is worded awkwardly and thus it is very difficult to decipher exactly what is being claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,8-10 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Taniguchi et al.

Taniguchi et al. teaches a shaving apparatus comprising at least one shaving head including a shaving surface, 62, for contacting the skin during shaving and at least one cutter, 61, that is movable behind the shaving surface, a drive structure including a motor, 40, and coupled to the at least one cutter for driving movement of the cutter, (col. 6, lines 29-32), electric power supply means connected to the motor, a housing, 12, containing the motor and at least part of the electric power supply means, a shell structure, 14, detachable from the housing, enveloping at least a portion of the housing behind the at least one shaving head when mounted to the housing, (col. 6, lines 33-54). Taniguchi et al. also teaches that the housing includes at least a first operating member and wherein the shell structure includes at least a second operating member operatively connected with the first operating member wherein the first and second members are mechanically and electrically connected, (col. 8, lines 59-64).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2,3,6,7 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Taniguchi et al. in view of Muraguchi et al.

Taniguchi et al. teaches all the limitations of the claims except for a power plug socket at the end of the housing, the shell portion being of a more impact resistant and a softer material than the housing, and comprising an optical signaling member and the shell structure including a window through which optical signaling is visible. Maraguchi teaches a power plug, 145, and an optical signaling member, (col. 4, lines 49-53, fig. 1). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the shaver of Taniguchi with a power plug, in order to enhance the batter power, and a optical signaling member, in order to visualize the remaining battery power. It would have been further obvious to provide the shaver of Taniguchi with the shell portion being of a more impact resistant and a softer material than the housing, as an obvious matter of design choice.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4 and 5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ninomiya was cited to show another example of a shaver.
